

WOULD REOPEN GAMBLING HALL

Ray Martin, owner of the Juarez gambling concession, which was closed Thursday by order of the state, is endeavoring to get the state capital to seek permission to reopen his establishment. According to Martin, his contract for the exclusive right to conduct a gaming house in Juarez does not expire for two months. A report generally credited at Juarez Friday was that Gov. Salinas had closed the gambling hall because Martin's contract was made with Gov. Andres Bello and he did not consider it binding on his administration. Ortiz was Salinas's predecessor. Meanwhile the "Globe" remains closed.

HUNGARIAN CALLS TREATY NATION'S DEATH SENTENCE

Paris, France, March 18.—The Hungarian peace treaty is a "sentence of death," count Albert Apponyi, head of the Hungarian peace commission, declares in the first of two articles he has given to the Associated Press.

The decision of the allies was based on one-sided information and Hungary never got a chance to present the facts of her own problems from her own point of view," he says.

Analyzing the treaty he declares that it takes away from Hungary two thirds of her territory and population and gives to what is left of the Hungarian frontier, everywhere open to hostile invasion.

Hungary was opposed to the war and count Tass, her prime minister, objected to the ultimatum to Serbia, but she was dragged in by her allies, he says in conclusion.

DEAR CANNY BOB: The other day a man told me that you were a Scotchman and were very wise and humorous.

I never heard of a Scotchman named Casey, and I never heard of a Scotchman who was wise and humorous.

Now, if you are so wise won't you please tell me how much money a man must have to be rich?

One man says he is rich with $10,000, and another man says he is poor with $100,000. What do you say?

MY DEAR PAT:
THE MAN was right.

FOR MY folks were Scotch.

AND I know I'm wise.

FOR I've picked myself.

A VERY good job.

THAT LETS me go.

AND LETS me come.

WHENEVER I WILL.

AND I'M humorous.

FOR IF I weren't.

HOW COULD it be.

I WOULD admit.

THAT I am wise.

WHEN I very well know.

THAT NO man knows.

IF HE is wise.

AND ABOUT the wealth.

THAT ONE must have.

IF HE'D be rich.

IT'S VERY true.

ONE MAY be rich.

WITH A smaller sum.

AND ONE quite poor.

WITH A larger sum.

FOR IT isn't the sum.

THAT ONE might have.

THAT MAKES one rich.

IT'S THE wants one has.

AND BECAUSE one's wants.

PAST A certain point.

ARE FANCIED wants.

ALL HAVE their birth.

AND HAVE their being.

JUST IN one's mind.

THEN IT must be true.

ONE'S STATE of wealth.

IS A mental state.

AND IF that is true.

IS MUST be true.

THAT THE happy man.

IS A wealthy man.

AND IF you and yours.

HAVE A place to sleep.

AND PLENTY of food.

AND CLOTHES to wear.

AND HAVE your health.

AND ASK no more.

THEN IT must be true.

YOU ARE counted rich.

BUT AS for me.

I'M GOING to admit.

THAT I'M not rich.

AND AM going to get.

ALL I honestly can.

AND WHEN I get it.

I'M GOING to spend it.

AND I have a hope.

THAT I'll have wants.

ADCLUB HEARS RIALTO MUSIC

Men of the Rialto theater furnished the program at the weekly meeting of the Adclub Friday, held in the basement of the chamber of commerce. Sitting at the head table with Scott White, president of the Adclub, were James C. Quinn, managing director of the theater; C. J. Quinn, house manager; Louis F. Klein, Edgar L. Pomeroy, musical director; H. E. Gray, cellist, and G. Westcott Young, publicity director.

Mr. Pomeroy played some old time numbers of "ragtime" music. Then he and the two Mr. Quinns and Mr. Klein sang popular songs. They also sang "Till We Meet Again." Adclub members joined in the chorus. Mr. Gray played two numbers on the cello.

The only man on the program not connected with the Rialto was Percy Montgomery, who read a paper on Bolshevism. He said rumors of hard times and panic were first based on a spirit of Bolshevism, and that such talk should be stamped out with truth.

At the close of the luncheon the adclub burst 100 balloons strung on double cords. Inside of one of the balloons was a 20 day pass to the Rialto. H. E. Wolfe, of the White House, got the prize.

The Reclamation Record, an official organ of the various reclamation projects of the United States, published to promote better living, better business and better farming, called attention in its March number to the fact that a two reel scenario of the valley project will be made this season.

The scenario will run the circuit of the best audiences in the United States, says the Record, and "we have been asked by the Red Cross to secure for them reels for their community centers and an audience of a million a month is possible."

The paper further stated that they had nine reels abroad and in all of those the Rio Grande project is set forth. Things have moved forward so fast since 1914 and 1915 in the valley that the reels must be brought up to date, according to the announcement.
